Second opinions offer reassurance to all

When patients face a serious medical diagnosis or an upcoming surgery they often wonder if they should seek a second opinion.

Most health care providers will encourage patients to seek out another consultation, especially if the disease is difficult to diagnose, there are inconclusive test results, there are multiple treatment approaches or when the recommended option could have permanent consequences.

For patients facing surgery, the American College of Surgeons states that obtaining a second opinion before surgery is part of good medical practice and competent physicians shouldn't be offended when patients decide to seek further advice and consult with another surgeon.

When a second surgical opinion confirms initial findings, it gives patients reassurance, which can reduce anxiety and uncertainty. From a cost-savings perspective, a second opinion can save health care dollars by confirming the certainty of a need for the proposed surgery.

However, a second opinion is not necessarily "better" than a first opinion. Whether there is agreement or disagreement, the final decision is up to the patient.

Patients should remember that it is their right to seek a second opinion before committing to surgery or any treatment plan. A competent health care provider should not be offended. He or she will likely consider the patient to be an informed, proactive health care consumer who is taking responsibility for his or her own health care.

Reedsville, Wisconsin 54230

In 2012 there were over 300 visits by area students that participate in our program here at Sunrise Horse Farm. We are so privileged to be a part of their lives and we enjoy each and every one. A drum roll please..for a great bunch of kids.."Sunrise Kids".

Sunrise Horse Farm is part of the Manitowoc County Transition Advisory Committee which meets at least quarterly to address the transition needs of students with disabilities from the six school districts in the county. A new employment initiative for people with disabilities called Jobs First! has been brought forth for Manitowoc County. And this past fall Comcast did a video of some of the area students as they were doing various chores here at Sunrise Horse Farm. The video also includes other businesses and organizations from within the county. In May a group which includes area students will travel to Washington, D.C. to present the video showing how Manitowoc County is working to increase employment opportunities for youth with disabilities.

Other exciting things happening in the county include Step 'n Stones which is a self-employment option in Lincoln High School's Next Step UW program. Special education students use profits from handcrafted and personalized tie knot blankets, keychains and bookmarks to buy Chamber Bucks for worker rewards and business reinvestment. For more information on purchasing items from Step 'n Stones, contact Dave Koenig, Coordinator at 920-683-2714.

We can make a difference in the lives of so many...reach out and be a blessing to someone.

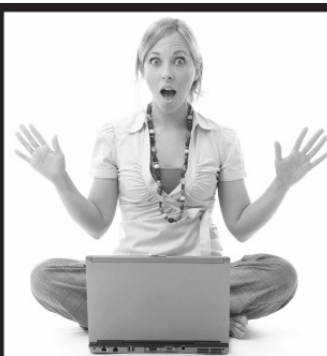

Help Local Patients By Donating Blood!

Historically, blood donations decrease during this time of year. The result is a real need for type O blood. If you are in the 8 percent of the population that has O Neg blood, we encourage you to donate to help save the lives of patients who need transfusions in emergency situations. Donors interested in giving can find a local donation site at www.bcw.edu. Blood drives have already been scheduled for the following dates in Reedsville:

- Monday, May 13 at RHS 1:30-5:30 PM
- Monday, July 22 at RHS 1:30-5:30 PM
- Monday, November 25 at RHS 1:30-5:30 PM

BloodCenter of Wisconsin provides all blood and blood products used locally by Holy Family Memorial Medical Center and Aurora HealthCare, Children's Hospital of Wisconsin, and statewide to more than 50 Wisconsin medical centers. Blood donors are eligible to give every 56 days, please make a habit of it and give blood for your community. Don't forget a picture ID is required to give blood.

Valentine's Day must share its date—February 14 is also known as National Ferris Wheel Day!

Manitowoc County Recycling Center

The Manitowoc County Recycling Center is now accepting food and beverage cartons for recycling! These familiar cartons are used to contain a variety of products commonly found on your grocery lists. Some examples are containers for wine, milk, soy milk, juice, cream, soup, broth, and egg substitutes. Cartons are made from paper fibers, plastic and aluminum so they are highly recyclable. When bringing your cartons to the Manitowoc County Recycling Center they can be placed in with the plastic bottles. We anticipate that incoming plastic loads from local haulers and municipalities will have a mixture of plastic bottles and these cartons. Guidelines for Carton Recycling are similar to the current guidelines for recycling plastic bottles. Cartons should be emptied and flattened.

There is no need to rinse them though. Please contact the Recycling Center office at 683-4333 if you have questions regarding Carton Recycling.
